5. Description of physical appearance: The building identified as 606 N. Eutaw Street is a three story brick building with 1/3 basement and a flat roof. The front elevation has a wooden store front with two door openings. Ghost lines reveal original cornice on 1st, 2nd and 3rd floors. Four large wooden one over one windows match on 2nd and 3rd floors. All windows on sides and rear of building are one over one also. The 1st floor features an ornamental tin ceiling for the front 1/3 of the building.

The building, which is rectangular, is vacant.

Date of Construction: Circa 1850 Source of Date: CHAP (Commission on Historic & Architectural Preservation)

Date(s) of Alteration(s):

Has building been moved? ☐ yes ☒ no. If so, when?

Statement of significance: The building represents an intact grouping of architecturally significant residential and commercial structures built between 1840 and 1900 in the Seton Hill Community of Baltimore City. Seton Hill is architecturally significant as one of Baltimore's earliest intact rowhouse neighborhoods. Historically, the area is linked to Saint Mary's Seminary, the first Catholic Seminary in the United States and Elizabeth Ann Seton, the first American canonized Saint. Mother Seton was also the founder of the Sisters of Charity, the first order of nuns founded in this country. While most of the designers of housing in Seton Hill are unknown, the master architect, Maximillian Godefrey, was responsible for the Saint Mary's Seminary Chapel. This building is recognized to be the first significant Gothic Revival church built in America. The small houses of Seton Hill, the juxtaposition of commercial and residential buildings along main thoroughfares, the changes and alterations that individual buildings and the community in general have gone through in the early twentieth century and the community's association with the early nineteenth century development of the Catholic Church in Baltimore has yielded important information on the growth and change of local neighborhoods throughout the nineteenth and twentieth centuries.

Item no. 6 continued:

connected and converted for office use, while the upper floor apartments were retained. In 1960, Graymar acquired 2509 St. Paul Street. The first floor was connected to 2511 and was used as a showroom, the second floor was adapted for commercial use, and the third floor was divided into two apartments. At the same time, the concrete and plate glass storefront was installed across the front facades of 2509, 2511, and 2513. Shortly after, 2509-2513 St. Paul Street was legally consolidated as a single property.

At the present time, 2509-2513 St. Paul Street is vacant and reflects its latest use as Graymar headquarters plus ten apartment units on the second and third floors. Although the exterior was altered through the addition of the storefront c. 1960 (see photo 2), 2509-2513 St. Paul Street retains its significance as one of the district's earliest rowhouse examples. It is similar to neighboring buildings in terms of scale, materials, and style, as well as in its historical development from single family residential to commercial/rental use (see photos 30, and 31).
